Most Severe in Fifteen Years.

This earthquake is the most severe Tuscany has suffered in the past fifteen years. The full force of the disturbance was felt in the valley of the Mugello, on the western slope of the central Apennines. Vicchio, a vil-lage of 1,200 inhabitants, suffered most, most of the local doctors being among the victims. In the capital of the Mugello, Doro San Lorenzo, with a population of more than 5,000 factories, schoolhouses, churches and factories, schoolhouses, churches railway stations were destroyed Among the other towarradi, which fered greatly were Marradi, which stands at a height of 1,075 feet on stands at a height of 2,075 feet on Among the other towns which suf the mountains; San Piero, Sieve, Vag-lla, Montorsoli, Dioomano, Covella and
